Welcome to the Black Dog

The Black Dog Broadmayne

The parish and village of Broadmayne lies along both sides of the main A352 road between Warmwell Cross and Dorchester. The road here is known as Main Street. Broadmayne anciently belonged to the Martel and Fitz-Herbert families, the former of which gave rise to name of Mayne Martel. During the reign of Henry Viii it was sold to the Talbot family and in the Visitation of the Heralds of Dorset in 1623.

The surviving village pub is the Black Dog. A public house of that name has been here since at least 1851 which is now owned by a local family.

They have made a few changes over the years but always with the local community in mind. The Black Dog has a great offering of real ales, great home cooked locally sourced food, and 7 beautifully decorated en-suit bedrooms and great garden with a childs play area.

From all the staff here at the Black we really hope you enjoy your visit with us.
